Heart Health Gains New Interest in Southwest

Residents of the Southwest are showing an increased interest in preventing heart and blood vessel disorders through education and other projects according to the Los Angeles County Heart Assn.

"More and more local clubs, organizations and individuals are volunteering to help or asking for heart programs," said Mrs. Grant H. Putnam of Inglewood.

Sharing Mrs. Putnam's clubs and organization's responsibilities for the local heart branch are: Mrs. Marvin Baker, San Pedro, school and youth groups; Alfred E. Corder, Hermosa Beach, men's clubs; five members of the Harbor Chapter of Medical Assistants organized under the co-leadership of Mrs. Kraebel Frenger of Redondo Beach, and Mrs. Bryan Hewitt, Torrance, education chairman.

Assn. projects during the past few months were: Bob Thins Tops, Medical Assistants Assn., Harbor Chapter; Little Company of Mary; Order of De Molay, Harbor General Hospital; Torrance Tops, and South High School Faculty Club.

Harbor City participants included Normont Elementary School, Harbor City-Lomita Lions Clubs, and Peninsula Convalescent Hospital.

Any organization wishing to obtain a speaker on heart health or any one wishing to help the Heart Association in its varied activities may contact the branch office at 16811 Hawthorne Blvd., 371-3591.

Parking Expanded
Pacific State Banks has completed an expansion of its Hawthorne office parking facilities. More parking spaces have been added and a new exit provided onto 13th St.

AMONG TORRANCE groups participating in the Heart Assn. projects during the past few months were: Bob Thins Tops, Medical Assistants Assn., Harbor Chapter; Little Company of Mary; Order of De Molay, Harbor General Hospital; Torrance Tops, and South High School Faculty Club.

Law in Action

America's welfare rests upon ideas, and its laws to protect them are of the utmost importance. Inventors, creative people and designers should know whether or not they are protected and how to become protected.

Mrs. Parker van Parker bought a $5,000 Paris original gown. At the Big Charity Ball, she met Mrs. Jim Jones wearing a gown exactly like hers. Price $50.

Is this fair? Well, yes, mostly. At least it is lawful, usually.

WHEN A person "publishes" a design to all the world, it soon becomes public and others can copy it. Once a design goes on the market the design is surrendered to the public.

"Of course, no one can copy the label or trade mark. And some things have designs or packaging that become so identified with the product that no one can lawfully copy the packaging, such as a well-known yellow film box or the shape of a bottle for soda pop. In such cases, the courts usually forbid the copier from benefitting another's product's good name.

The law does protect many other things by copyright laws, trade marks, or registered names.

But as a rule no design nor an idea can very well be protected, once others find out about them.

IN A RECENT case, Bill Builder built a series of small tract homes that caught on. His design won awards and the homes sold briskly.

So briskly that Sam thought that he'd build a few homes just like Bill's. He'd visited Bill's model homes, like 60,000 others but he tape measured them. He built houses like Bill's and sold them fast.

Bill sued Sam. But since Bill had "published" his design the court could do nothing for him.

Note California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Campaigns End

El Camino Students Vote Monday, Tuesday

Petitions are filed and candidates are jelling as political candidates at El Camino College prepare themselves for election of student officers for the spring semester. Campaigning will be climaxed Monday and Tuesday when students go to the polls for primary elections.

Seeking the top office of student body president are Tim Irvin, Inglewood, and John Druliner, Redondo Beach.

IRVIN IS THE incumbent candidate, while Druliner now serves as sophomore class president. In past semesters, Druliner has held the offices of Associated Men's Students president and freshman justice on the college court. Irvin has been active with Chi Gamma Iota, campus veterans' group.

Ernest Hutchings, Torrance, and Tom Hoffar, Inglewood, are candidates for the post of Associated Student vice president.

Petitions for the office of commissioner of activities have been filed by Maureen Sullivan, Inglewood, and Bill Schwent, Torrance; for commissioner of rallies, Dee Foote and Craig Bullington, both of Torrance; and for commissioner of public relations, Susan Sturtevant and Judith Jones, both of Redondo Beach.

RUNNING unopposed for other commissioner positions are Richard Hanson, Inglewood, activities; Arthur W. Zamlock III, Palos Verdes, health, education and welfare, and Candy Fleming, Manhattan Beach, publications.

New Apartments Win Approval

A zone exception which will permit an apartment building at 22127 S. Vermont Ave., has been approved by the Regional Planning Commission.

The units, to be built by S. Samy Colucci, are located in an M-1 land use zone.

We do not keep the outward form of order, where there is disorder in the mind.

Fieldhouse Bids Due Next Month

Bids for the construction of a fieldhouse at Harbor City Recreation Center, 24901 Frampton Ave., will be received by the Los Angeles Parks and Recreation Commission Thursday, Jan. 7, 1965.

Plans call for the construction of three buildings and a covered play area, all under a series of connecting roofs. A multi-purpose room, storage areas, a small pantry, and sanitary facilities for men and women are planned. Craft rooms and offices also will be built.

The new facilities were designed by Architect James Stewart.
